MAIDA PUBLIC INTEREST SCHOLARS PROGRAM
MAIDA POST-GRADUATE PUBLIC INTEREST FELLOWSHIP

General Description and Rutgers Policy of Equal Opportunity and Agreement to Fellowship Terms (1 of 2)

The Maida Public Interest Scholars Program is made possible through the generosity of James and Dr. Sharon Maida. Established in 2015 to acknowledge, support and sustain public interest legal work by students and graduates of Rutgers Law School. The Maida Public Interest Scholars Program supports Maida Summer Fellowships and the Maida Post-Graduate Public Interest Fellowship.

Graduates from the Classes of 2016, 2015 and 2014 with a commitment for new employment at a public interest legal organization or government entity that will entail attorney supervision and employer-paid benefits are eligible to apply for the 2016-2017 Maida Post-Graduate Public Interest Fellowship. The Fellowship is intended to provide new opportunities, and not to be used as a substitute for funding otherwise available from the host site.

The Maida Post-Graduate Public Interest Fellowship will be administered by the Law School. The Fellow will earn a stipend equivalent to the salary paid to New Jersey judicial clerks at the trial level, paid in regular installments through the Fellowship year.

The host site will be responsible for the Fellow’s supervision, training and benefits, and will employ the Fellow on the same terms and conditions as those applied to other lawyers or professionals at the Fellow’s level of experience at the organization.

The selection committee will consider several factors, including the applicant's commitment to a career in public interest law, the potential impact of the applicant's work, and the student's record of service and accomplishment in law school. Preference is given to projects benefiting residents of New Jersey.

Post-graduate Fellows will submit semi-annual reports describing their experience to the Law School. They will comply promptly with all requests for non-privileged information from Rutgers Law School about the Fellowship, and will cooperate fully with recruitment and recognition requests related to the Fellowship. Post-graduate Fellows will respond promptly and accurately to requests for information from the Office of Career Planning.
